FIVE CABINET MEMBERS TO GO

New Faces to Be Seen Among the President's Advisers.

POLITICAL LEADERS AIR VIEWS

Secretaries Hughes, Mellon and Hoover Almost Certain to Accept Reappointment—Theodore Roosevelt Likely to Be Secretary Wilbur's Successor—Longworth in Race For Speaker of House.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Several new faces will appear in the new cabinet President Coolidge will appoint, political leaders here believe.

They say some of the present secretaries will withdraw voluntarily for various reasons, while several others will be replaced by the president in accordance with his views. At least five will go, it is stated.

Secretary of Treasury Mellon was the first of President Coolidge's cabinet to let it be known that he would accept reappointment if offered to him by the president. Mellon was represented at the treasury as feeling entirely content with the prospect of another four years as head of the government's financial machinery.

It is said that Secretary of State Hughes will be asked by the president to continue to administer American foreign affairs and probably will accept. Secretary of War Weeks does not want four years more and if he consents to reappointment probably will retire after a year of additional service.

Attorney General Stone took the place left vacant by Harry M. Daugherty on condition he go back to his post as dean of Columbia law school after a year. Postmaster General New seems certain to go, while his place may be filled by William M. Butler, the president's campaign manager.

It is believed that Secretary of the Navy Wilbur probably will give way for Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. Wilbur will be given an ambassadorship or a high judicial appointment if any court vacancies occur before March 4. Secretary of Interior Work probably will retire of his own accord. The post of secretary of agriculture is vacant.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover is one of the men who is almost certain to be induced to stay and, contrary to reports, he is willing to continue. Secretary of Labor Davis will voluntarily retire to resume his activities as head of the Loyal Order of Moose.

The close contests in the house probably will lead to an interesting fight for the speakership when the new congress assembles, possibly in extra session next March 4, as many think it may at the call of the president.

The present speaker, Frederick H. Gillett of Massachusetts, having been elected to the new senate, his name will not appear in the house contest. Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio is one of those foremost in the speculation surrounding the next occupant of the speaker's chair.

Representative Martin B. Madden (Rep., Ill.) announced he would be a candidate for speaker of the house to succeed Frederick H. Gillett, who has been elected to the senate in Massachusetts.

STONE ACCUSED

Labor Federation Would Have Him Sign Union Wage Scale.

Cleveland, Nov. 7.—There was launched here a campaign to induce Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and chairman of the board of the Cleveland Federation of Labor it was charged that Stone's company is trying to destroy the United Mine Workers of America. The resolution urges every affiliated body of wage earners to petition Stone to meet with officials of the miners and sign the union scale.

The federation's resolution charges that strikebreakers are being used in the West Virginia mines to make effective the wage scale of 1917. This scale, it is said, averages about $1.50 a day less than the Jacksonville scale adopted last February.

Women Traffic Victims.

Cincinnati, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Mary Kelly, 73, was killed here when hit by an automobile. Mrs. Mary Cogan, 68, died from injuries received when hit by an auto.

SMITH W. BROOKHART

Republican Senator of Iowa Re-elected by Narrow Margin.

MELLON OPTIMISTIC

Secretary Expects Expansion of Commerce and Industry.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in a statement here said he expects that doubts as to the future will be removed and commerce and industry will go ahead with a program of expanding development.

The secretary believes that the election has taken off "brakes" that have held back business somewhat in the last several months. He thinks also that the railroad managers will feel that they may lay out programs for the next few years with more confidence that moves inimical to them will not be made by congress. Mellon traces the improvement in Europe to the settlement of the reparations problem through the Dawes agreement and expects that better conditions will result.

REPUBLICANS WILL CONTROL THE HOUSE

Also Increase Their Membership in the Senate.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The new house of representatives will be under the full control of the Republicans.

Latest election returns show that the Republicans have captured 246 seats. This is an increase of 21 over their present strength and 28 above a majority. Leaders of the party regard this margin as sufficient to leave them in control, even in the face of any coalition between La Follette insurgents and the Democrats, such as the organization of the present house for many days, and successfully challenged a number of administration measures.

The Republicans in the senate have increased their membership from the bare 49 to 52. Included in this number, however, are Senator La Follette and at least three others of his supporters. In the face of this situation it was conceded that in order to have a workable majority it would be necessary for the Republicans to win in Minnesota and New Mexico and fill the vacancy in Connecticut next month, called after the death of Senator Brandegee.

Klansman Pleads Guilty.

Burlington, Vt., Nov. 7.—William C. Moyers, a klan organizer, who has been held in jail here in default of bail, charged with robbery of St. Mary's cathedral on Aug. 8, entered a plea of guilty. Gordon Wells and William E. McCreedy of this city are facing trial on similar charges. Moyers, said to be a klan member, came here from Tennessee in connection with organization work.

To Play on Coast.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 7.—The Notre Dame athletic board of control placed its approval on plans for a post-season intercollegiate football game between the Notre Dame and the University of Southern California teams at Pasadena New Year's day.

Famous Actor Dead.

New York, Nov. 7.—Frank Holland, famous actor, died suddenly of heart disease. He was 62 years old and had appeared on the stage with Robert Mantell, Fannie Davenport and Robson and Crane.

DAVIS' DEFEAT NEAL'S THEME

Due to Religious Bigotry, Republican Chairman Says.

COMMENTS ON THE ELECTION

Declares Analysis of Returns Reveals That Defeat of the Former Governor Is "Wholly Traceable to That Element Which Stands For Bigotry"—Pluralities of Coolidge and Donahay, According to Returns.

Columbus, Nov. 7.—According to Chairman Clarence J. O'Neal of the Republican state campaign committee the defeat of Harry L. Davis for governor was caused by "religious bigotry and racial hatred."

In a statement on the election Neal said:

"A careful and complete analysis of the returns in the governorship contest shows plainly that the defeat of former Governor Davis is wholly traceable to that element which stands for bigotry and because of his unwillingness as governor and since to make common cause with them."

"I say unhesitatingly that we would rather a thousand times go down in defeat under conditions as they are than win our victory knowing we owed it to religious bigotry or racial prejudice on our part."

"Racial and religious hatreds have no place in our political affairs. It behooves the citizens of Ohio in the next two years to keep their eyes on the situation as it develops further."

"It is certain that this whole question will have to be met fairly and squarely in 1926 by those who want our government untrammelled and unbiased by personal religious and racial antipathies."

"Former Governor Davis made a clean, dignified campaign in which he barred definitely injection of religious matters as issues, direct or indirect. He declared the campaign should be decided on the issues and records of candidates only. It is to be highly regretted therefore that it was possible to make this false religious issue the deciding factor in the choice of governor."

"However, we are confident when the people come to realize what has happened in Ohio, this false issue will be driven out of Ohio political affairs into permanent exile, and the friends of Harry L. Davis have an abiding faith that he will be heard from when future public history is made."

President Coolidge piled up a clean-cut majority of more than 330,000 over the combined vote of John W. Davis, Democratic candidate, and Robert M. La Follette, independent candidate, in returns compiled by the secretary of state from all but 50 precincts in the state.

The president's plurality over Davis on these returns was more than 675,000. His plurality over La Follette exceeded 800,000. Davis had a plurality of almost 125,000 over La Follette. Governor Vic Donahay's majority over Harry L. Davis had mounted to more than 165,000 on practically the same returns.

BROOKHART WINS

Iowa Senator Overcomes Lead of His Democratic Opponent.

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 7.—Senator Smith W. Brookhart defeated Daniel Steck, his Democratic opponent, by a majority of 1,116, according to a complete but unofficial tabulation. An official canvass of the vote in all counties probably will be required before accurate returns are known. The vote now stands: Brookhart 447,523, Steck 446,407.

The sudden wiping out of Steck's lead of 4,000 when straggling rural and city precincts reported and the slow, steady gain of Brookhart as the rechecking by county auditors progressed, held the undivided attention of both Republican and Democratic party leaders. Whether Steck will seek a recount by the senate elections committee is problematical. He had given little consideration to such a move, he announced.

To Push Government Suit.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Attorney General Harlan F. Stone announced he would appear in the appellate court in Philadelphia next Monday and Tuesday to prosecute the government's suit against the Chemical foundation. It was indicated at the department of justice that immediate action in regard to the publication by the spacers of income tax returns would be delayed temporarily.

He took his cases to Justice Patterson's court along the National road. Greider was a resident of Miami county.

Toledo, Nov. 7.—Appointment of a new adjutant for the American Legion of Ohio, to succeed Hugh K. Martin, who resigned last month, will be made at an executive committee meeting to be held at state headquarters in Columbus early in December, according to announcement made here by Milo J. The board will report its findings to state officials. Nearly 100 witnesses were examined and many arrests are expected as a result of their testimony.

Football Player Killed.

Cincinnati, Nov. 7.—John Heheman, 20, chauffeur and football star of the Purcell Athletic club, this city, was shot and killed when returning from a banquet at a fishing club on the Little Miami river. Simon Whittington, 30, negro, is being held by the police on a charge of murder in connection with Heheman's death.

Leaps From Fourth Floor.

Cincinnati, Nov. 7.—William Rosendall, 62, a clerk living in a hotel here, leaped from the fourth story and crashed partly through a skylight and wire netting over the first floor. Physicians said Rosendall sustained a fractured spine and a fractured elbow, but that he probably will recover.

SURPLUS FUNDS TO BE RETURNED

Means Hundreds of Millions of Dollars for Taxpayers.

CHAIRMAN MADDEN'S PLANS

Search Will Be Started Next Week by the House Appropriations Committee For Surplus Funds In the Various Governmental Departments. Madden in Conference With President Coolidge.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Chairman Madden of the house appropriations committee announced that a search will be made next week by the committee for surplus funds in the various governmental departments.

Madden said he expected the surplus funds to reach into the hundreds of millions of dollars, which he would turn back to taxpayers in immediate refunds.

Following a conference with President Coolidge, Madden said he would suggest a measure directing the secretary of the treasury to refund annually to taxpayers all surplus funds in the treasury above $25,000,000. The refunds would be made in the current calendar year in which the surplus was available. While Madden made no estimate as to the actual surplus funds believed to be available in the various departments and bureaus, he said he expected to find at least $15,000,000 in the railroad administration office.

Chairman Madden said the subcommittees of the appropriations committee have been called to meet Monday to take up consideration of the various appropriation bills. Under this program the chairman said there should be no difficulty in getting all of these measures passed at the short session, thus preventing the necessity of an extra session so far as the completion of supply bills is concerned.

It was learned at the treasury department that reduction of the surtax on big incomes to 25 per cent will be recommended to congress next month by President Coolidge. This was one of the features of the original Mellon tax plan, which congress turned down last winter.

BROTHERHOODS LOSE

Rail Labor Board's Contention Upheld by Federal Court.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—The railroad labor board's contention that it has authority to compel persons to appear before it to give testimony in matters being considered by the board, was upheld by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. The decision was given in a suit brought by the board against D. B. Robertson of Cleveland, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and J. N. Maguire, general chairman of the Chicago and Northwestern section of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Judge Wilkerson ruled that such authority, however, could not be considered as being judicial, but it does provide that in the event of persons refusing to answer summonses the board can seek redress in the courts.

"Ma" Congratulates Mrs. Ross.

Temple, Tex., Nov. 7.—"Ma" Ferguson wired her congratulations to Mrs. Nellie T. Ross, governor-elect of Wyoming, and acknowledged the latter's wire of a similar content. "I want to commend the good people of your state for your election and I hope to have the pleasure of your acquaintance some time. It appears that you and I are the first of the kind. Best wishes for your administration," Mrs. Ferguson wired.

Light Service Cut Off.

Mt. Vernon, O., Nov. 7.—Failure of a 1½-mill tax levy to carry prompted City Service Director Phillips to issue an order cutting off the electric light service here. "The city of Mt. Vernon is broke," Phillips said, "and can not have further light service, as the city already is indebted to the Ohio Power company for $7,000."

Contractor Accused.

Cincinnati, Nov. 7.—In police court here Jack Gordon, real estate broker, charged that he was lured to a lonely road, held up, stabbed, beaten and robbed of $67 in cash and forced to make out a bank check for $4,000 by Fred Walther, a painting contractor. Gordon swore to a warrant charging Walther with robbery.

Judge Lindsey Wins.

Denver, Nov. 7.—Juvenile Judge Ben B. Lindsey was returned to office by slightly more than 350 votes, complete unofficial returns show.

POPULAR VOTE BIG

Coolidge Has 15,000,000 as Against 8,500,000 For Davis.

New York, Nov. 7.—Calvin Coolidge not only will have a sweeping majority in the electoral college for president, but his popular vote will exceed by approximately 2,000,000 the totals accredited his opponents.

The gradual completion of vote counting in distant states tended to confirm the prediction that the final standing of the candidates in the electoral college will be: Coolidge 379, Davis 139 and La Follette 13. And while no state has yet announced the official tabulation of its complete vote, the unofficial returns forecast a relative popular vote by the candidates as follows: Coolidge 15,000,000, Davis 8,500,000, La Follette 4,200,000.

The later results from some states slow to report showed Davis supplanting La Follette as second in the popular vote of Oregon and apparently definitely ousted from second place by Davis in Montana. This would mean that La Follette ran second in only nine or possibly 10 states, instead of in 11 as earlier returns showed.

Brookhart Wins.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 7.—Senator Smith W. Brookhart defeated Daniel Steck, his Democratic opponent, by a majority of 320, according to a complete but unofficial tabulation. An official canvass of the vote in all counties probably will be required before accurate returns are known. The vote now stands: Brookhart 455,769, Steck 455,449.

BALDWIN FORMS CABINET

Assumes the Premiership and First Lord of the Treasury.

London, Nov. 7.—Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservative party, announced the personnel of his cabinet.

Baldwin assumed the premiership, Austen Chamberlain, foreign affairs; Worthington Evans, war, and Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer.

Baldwin also will serve as first lord of the treasury and leader of the house of commons. Austen Chamberlain will be deputy leader and Marquis Curzon, besides being leader of the house of lords, will be lord president of the council. Others in the new cabinet include: First lord of the admiralty, W. C. Bridgeman; lord privy seal, Marquis of Salisbury; lord chancellor, Viscount Cave; colonial secretary, Colonel Amery; secretary of state for India, Lord Birkenhead; minister for labor, Sir A. Steel-Maitland; attorney general, Sir Douglas Hogg.

Royal Party Sees Ball Game.

London, Nov. 7.—King George, Queen Mary and the Prince of Wales witnessed the baseball game between the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox. After their majesties were seated in the royal box, the king, prince, Prince Henry, Ambassador Kellogg and John McGraw walked out to the diamond, where Johnny Evers presented the royal party to the players. The Giants defeated the White Sox 8 to 5.

That Helps Some

The name cockroach comes from the Spanish cucaracha, says Nature Magazine. He fights his own relatives so that only one species is apt to infest a given section at the same time. There is comfort in that.

Line Worth Remembering

This helpful line, by Sir Philip Sidney, is hard to beat: "Fear is more pain than is the pain it fears." If we can get out of the habit of being fearful, there is little we cannot conquer. Courage makes life worth while.

Paris Noise Protection

Street noises of Paris have become so great that a chemist has invented a tiny plastic ball that will fit any ear and shut out sounds, with benefit especially to "light sleepers," nervous persons and invalids.

Avoid Airing Troubles

This I always religiously observed, as a rule, never to chide before company nor to prattle abroad of miscarriages at home. What passes between two people is much easier made up than when once it has taken air—Erasmus.

Strict British Law

When a woman motorist dropped a glass bottle on a highway in England recently she was compelled by a policeman to go back and pick up the pieces, then appear in court and pay a fine.

Obedience to Koran

From an interpretation of a passage in the Koran Moslems are forbidden to have shades to their eyes, hence the absence of a peak from the fez and the turban.

DANCE HALL YIELDS TIMBER FOR CHURCH

Pulpit Is Made From Top of Old Bar.

Durango, Colo.—The old Greek saying "out of bad wood good smoke sometimes comes" was applied here when a "community tabernacle" and its parsonage were built out of timbers and materials taken from a once notorious gambling resort and dance hall and from an erstwhile brewery.

The tabernacle, built by the Free Methodist church, was recently dedicated. Its altar rail was made of part of the bar against which the lumberjacks, miners, cowpunchers, Mexicans and gamblers of forty years ago used to lean. The bar's foot-rail was converted into the hand-rail of the steps leading into the church. A Bible now rests on the polished walnut where the liquor of the early days was placed, for the top of the bar has become the pulpit. The altar was constructed from other parts of the bar.

The church rests on a foundation of stone, heavy timbers and iron beams taken from both the dance hall and the brewery. The window sills and ledges were made from the heavy oak bottoms of huge beer vats. The building occupies the site of the former brewery. It is situated at the foot of a bluff and is overlooked by the parsonage of the presiding elder of the district. The parsonage once was the office of the brewery and has been made into a modern cottage. It is planned to terrace the bluff and to build winding stairs from the elder's home to the house of worship, using as a hand-rail a coil formerly utilized in making beer.

The two steps that lead to the entrance of the tabernacle were formed of timbers taken from the dance hall. One of the boards carries a bullet fired from a ".45," evidence of one of the many shooting scrapes that enlivened the old resort. The heavy timbers comprising the supporting columns and the roof beams were taken from the dance halls. The church seats 700.

"I think," said Rev. F. F. Stewart, the presiding elder who conceived the idea, "that it was in the nature of an act of Providence that we were able to convert these places of disrepute into a house of worship."

Loving Is Said to Be Cure for Stuttering

New York.—Do you stutter? A little loving will cure it. If you are not of an amatory disposition, dancing is a slower, but equally sure remedy.

At least, so says Dr. James S. Greene, psychoanalyst and founder of the Ephphtha club. Ephphtha is a Bible word, meaning "thou shalt speak."

The 2,000 members meet once a week. They go through exercises. Then Doctor Greene starts them talking of love. They dance. Ergo, their speech becomes normal.

The only disadvantage, if it should be called such, is that most of the patients cured of stuttering fall in love.

Doctor Greene's motto is: "They don't stutter when they say: 'I love you.'"

Peer of Great Britain
Advertises for Work

London, England.—Two "personals" appearing in the London Times tell their own story. The first, which reflects the social and economic changes wrought by the war, follows:

"Peer wants work; under forty; energetic, resourceful; horses, motor, literature; served in royal air forces."

The other shows the die-hard spirit, the spirit that's out to maintain the old social standards at all hazards. Here it is:

"There is now a vacancy (first class) for lady inebriate in home at Apply, etc."

The plain inference of this laconic message is that at this particular home there is no welcome for a woman inebriate who is not a lady.

Didn't Need Bloodhound;
His Own Nose Knows

Olean, N. Y.—The local constabulary did not require the use of the police bloodhounds when he went to capture a burglar at the home of Mrs. C. H. Miller.

After surrounding the house in answer to Mrs. Miller's call the constabulary emptied the entire cylinder of his six shooter into the carcass of a skunk, whose head had been caught in a milk bottle.

The tapping of the glass bottle had caused Mrs. Miller to believe that burglars were trying to force a window.

Some Traveler

Orange, Mass.—While some of the older residents occasionally do a stunt which attracts attention, they are several knots behind Mrs. Mary Currie for endurance and activity. Mrs. Currie recently returned from a motor trip in which nearly 500 miles were covered in a day and a night. Mrs. Currie is nearly eighty-one.

Autos Rout Camel Train

London.—A plan to substitute a motor car service over the deserts between Bagdad and Persia and Constantinople and Persia, to take the place of the old caravans, is being undertaken by an English firm. The firm at present is operating a service between Halfam, Damascus and Bagdad.

Bliss

One becomes used to the frank displays of marital felicity, pre and post, that occur on the top of Fifth Avenue busses. Here is a slight variation. The young man had just visited the barber and was describing the details to his wife. Finally words failed him—off came his hat and his shining head was placed under his wife's nostrils that she might inhale the aroma of the hair tonic to which he had succumbed. —New York Sun.

Women and Responsibility

The woman who can shoulder responsibility successfully is one who does not make a burden of it. She has sufficient self-confidence to give her courage and assurance. Therefore the cultivation of self-confidence is essential as a preparation for the taking on of responsibility. It should be developed from earliest childhood and be encouraged in proper proportion to other characteristics.

Artificial Butterfly Wings

Prof. Hans Zozher, addressing the German Chemical society at Hamburg, declared that he has succeeded by artificial means in reproducing the coloring of butterfly wings with much more effect and richness than the originals themselves. Frequently, said the German scientist, he has made artificial wings which would make "any butterfly in the world turn green or black with envy." The beautiful color effects in butterfly wings are produced by light reflections on the same principle which causes the glistening colors in soap bubbles.—Pathfinder Magazine.

A USED CAR.

A used car, or a secondhand car is just as good as the firm that sells it. Its performance is just as good as the reputation of the man that sells it.

Your car is a used car, does that place any stigma on it? Used cars have gotten into bad repute because of the manner in which they were sold and misrepresented.

Can you tell a used car when you see it; neither can anyone else.

Old Settlements in This "Young Country"

The United States is still characterized as a "young country." Yet its oldest city, St. Augustine, has celebrated its 350th birthday, a writer in the Montreal Herald notes. Many important European centers of population had not been planned or even conceived when this little Florida city was planted among the pines by Don Pedro Adelantado in 1565. The kind of civilization which was then brought to this continent has very considerably influenced the national American institutions, especially in several of the Southern states.

The next oldest European settlement in North America still in existence is Annapolis Royal, formerly Port Royal. This was the early capital of Nova Scotia at a time when that colony included not only the present province by that name, but New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland and part of the present province of Quebec and the Labrador coast as far north as Ungava bay. The first wheat was sown by the hand of a white man in North America at Port Royal in 1605, and the first wheat mill was constructed in the same place in 1606. It was probably a tidal mill.

"Operative" and "Operator"

An operative is "a person who is employed as a workman in a mill or factory; a skilled workman; an artisan; one who operates a machine in a factory." An operator is "one who works or controls a machine; any skilled worker." The latter term is applied also in trading on the stock exchange by brokers and by firms engaged in coal-mining operations.—Literary Digest.

MOCK TRIAL

Lutheran Brotherhood Enjoys Meeting—George Himrod Convicted.

A much larger crowd than usual attended The Mock Trial of the Lutheran Brotherhood Thursday evening. George Himrod was charged with chicken stealing, John Barthelmas was the prosecuting witness and J. D. Hummel was the presiding judge. The prosecuting attorney was R. L. Brehmer, assisted by F. A. Cryder, and attorneys for the defense were John Goeller Jr., and J. R. Noecker, and deputy sheriff, Ralph Mack.

Exhibit "A" was the chicken which Mr. Barthelmas had brought in for identification. It was stole right from under the deputy's nose. Ed. Crist acted very guilty. When the fight was the thickest the lights went out for a minute and when they come on again the prisoner was gone. Sheriff Ebert was severely called for being lax in his duty. However, the prisoner was returned and finally convicted, altho the argument clearly showed that he was only assisting John Barthelmas as they were John's wife's chickens and the husband needed Pumpkin Show money.

Joseph P. Noecker acted as chairman of the lunch committee and delighted the crowd with red hots and coffee.

The next meeting is November 20. This will be a banquet and ladies are invited. L. E. Goeller will be toastmaster.

China Seeks Treaty Revision.
Pekin, Nov. 7.—The new government of China shortly will demand revision of all "unequal" treaties with foreign powers. Foreign Minister Wang stated, "I wish to remind friendly powers of China's right to her own existence." Wang said, "Any conditions derogatory to that right must necessarily be rectified by mutual arrangement as quickly as the exigencies of the circumstances require."

Rail Merger Strikes Snag.
New York, Nov. 7.—The proposed merger of the Erie railroad, the Chesapeake and Ohio, Hocking Valley, Pere Marquette and the Nickel Plate system by the Van Sweringen interests of Cleveland struck a snag, it was announced here. If the mergers, which depended on lease agreements, are abandoned, it is understood here the Van Sweringens will attempt a direct consolidation of the various roads.

Fate of Indiana River
The Mississinawa river runs through the counties of Grant and Delaware in Indiana. The river was reserved by the government as a fishing stream for the Indians on the reservation. As late as 1890 the stream was liberally stocked with fish by the government. This was probably the best stocked stream in Indiana.
Then the great natural gas boom struck that region. Factories and towns grew like mushrooms. Owing to the pollution of the stream from factory waste and refuse from gas wells, not a fish remains, says the Detroit News. The once beautiful Mississinawa river of the red man is an open sewer.

PLAN NEW WAYS TO USE CORNCOBS

Methods Are Devised to Avoid Waste of 20,000,000 Tons Yearly.

Washington.—Science has found a way to avoid the yearly waste of 20,000,000 tons of corncobs in the corn belt of the United States, according to a report of research work prepared by Frederick B. La Forge and Gerard Mains of the bureau of chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, and O. R. Sweeney, head of the chemical engineering department of Iowa State college, for Engineering Foundation. The Foundation, in commenting on the report, said that chemists and engineers appear to have opened a path to new industries based on waste products, which deals with the discovery of new processes for making the corncobs commercially available and reveals their value.

"One county in Missouri grows a certain kind of Indian corn because its large cobs make good tobacco pipes," says the Foundation. "Some cobs are burned as fuel on farms. A 'maple sugar' flavor is made by boiling cobs with water. Meat smoked with cobs has a flavor said to be better than that from hickory. There are other minor uses.

"But what use can be made of the 15,000,000 or 20,000,000 tons of cobs wasted annually in the corn belt? Chemists of the Department of Agriculture, working on the subject since 1918, have discovered new values in cobs and processes for making them commercially available.

Iowa College Investigates.
"Iowa State college is investigating production from cobs of furfural, oxalic and acetic acids, methanol (wood alcohol), charcoal, activated char, pitch, tar, oils, cob flour, incense, punk, a plastic material and fermentation products.

"When cobs are cooked for a few minutes under pressure in superheated water, adhesive materials are extracted. These compounds belong to the carbo-hydrate group of chemicals, to which also belong starch, dextrine and sugars.

"Pentosan-adhesives can be used for pasting fiber boxes and cheap paper bags and for other purposes not demanding high-grade, strong adhesives. A special use proposed is in manufacture of briquettes from fine sizes of anthracite, of which a superabundance results in preparing that coal for market. Thus utilization of waste cobs could enhance materially the value of near-waste coal; much experimental work has been done.

"When cobs are digested for about two hours with steam under 135 pounds pressure per square inch, with a very little sulphuric acid, a different product results, furfural.

"It can be obtained also from oat hulls, bagasse, bran and other vegetable substances. Its use has been limited because of the high cost by methods heretofore employed. In 1920, possibly 50 pounds were used in the United States, only as a laboratory reagent; the price was about $30.

"In France and Germany furfural has been made a by-product in the manufacture of alcohol from wood waste. The Miner laboratories of Chicago, by independent research, developed a process for furfural from oat hulls in large quantities. Annual production is now thousands of pounds, and since 1922 the price has been reduced to 25 cents.

Processes Worked Out.
"Research workers of the Department of Agriculture, continuing their investigation at the Arlington Farm, Virginia, have worked out practical processes and equipment for furfural from cobs in large quantities, at still lower cost. On a scale of 50 tons of cobs a day, yielding four and one-half tons, furfural could be produced for about 6 cents a pound, making no allowance for income from by-products. Furfural can now be made at much lower cost than formaldehyde, and can replace it in a number of fields.
"Attention has turned to discovery of additional uses for furfural and enlargement of its market. More than sixty patents on its production and utilization have been issued, mostly within the last five years, in the United States and other countries. During the war a shortage of acetone could easily have been met by distilling cobs.

"There is a promising field in the manufacture of resins similar to bakelite, suitable for parts of electrical instruments, for printing plates and various other molded articles. These phenol furfural resins are infusible and insoluble; they have high insulating qualities, great strength and great resistance to water and chemicals. They have a large field in radio equipment. Phonograph records may be made from them. There are also innumerable uses for fiber impregnated with these resins where great toughness and resistance are of value."

Has Useful Hobby
Berlin.—It is the hobby of Dr. Laura Turnau to collect children. She is a welfare worker, and her house is constantly filled with little boys and girls for whom she finds homes.
"It is a wonderful recreation from the cares of my professional work," the doctor said, "to come home every night with two or three new children tagging at my skirts."

with that "fresh air" taste

Delicious—and so beautiful in their even shape and coloring. And little wonder! For they were baked with "fresh air"—in the wonderful oven of the Estate Gas Range. The fumes of burning gas never enter this oven—only fresh air, heated and sterilized by the exclusive Estate method, touches the food.

And this heated fresh air is distributed so uniformly throughout the oven that no matter in what part you place your baking, the same uniform results are certain. No "pot-watching", no shifting pans—the oven ends all this worry.

Decide today you'll be one of the many thousands of good cooks using the Estate. We'll gladly show you the range and all its features.

KEEPING WELL
WATCH YOUR HEART
DR. FREDERICK R. GREEN
Editor of "HEALTH"
(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

HEART disease causes more deaths today than any other single group of diseases. For many years, and as far back as we have any knowledge, this unenviable distinction was held by tuberculosis, which has for centuries been the greatest scourge of the world. But the tuberculosis death rate has been more than cut in two in this country in the last 25 years, while the death rate from heart disease has been steadily rising.

The report of the United States census bureau for 1922 shows that out of 1,009,673 deaths in this country in that year 85,739 were due to tuberculosis, 76,770 to pneumonia, 76,131 to kidney disease, 75,113 to cancer, 70,664 to cerebral hemorrhage and 137,157 to heart disease. One out of every five persons over forty who died in 1922 was killed by some form of heart disease.

Most people think of heart disease as something that strikes in the dark without warning; something that cannot be prevented. They think that heart disease is like fate, something you cannot avoid, foresee or prevent. This is not true. Heart disease is due to causes which can be foreseen and prevented. Isn't it worth while to try and prevent it and so save nearly 150,000 lives a year?

Diseases like tuberculosis, smallpox and typhoid fever are epidemic diseases which can only be controlled by general measures. If your town has polluted water, and you drink it, you'll get typhoid, no matter what your personal habits are. But heart disease is an individual disease. It depends largely on you whether you will be the one person out of five persons to die of heart disease or not.

What's the cause of this enormous number of damaged hearts? Poison of some kind, usually the poison left in the body by some contagious preventable disease.

Nearly every case of heart disease is caused by the poison in the blood irritating one of the valves of the heart, causing first inflammation, then ulceration. These little ulcers heal, but the healing produces scar tissue, which pulls the valves out of shape and so prevents them from working properly. This may follow typhoid, diphtheria, scarlet fever, rheumatism or any other disease which produces poisons in the body. Or these poisons may get into the blood through diseased tonsils or bad teeth.

If heart disease is caused by infection, then to avoid it we must avoid infection. If you have bad teeth or tonsils, have them properly treated. They may not kill you now, but they will later on. Keep your children away from sick children.

Tree's Unkind Comment

Stories of Beethoven's tree flourish like the green bay of the same family name. Tree is in fact and for many years has been the legitimate game of all storytellers, a part he undoubtedly enjoyed. The famous scene painter, Harker, is responsible for this one.

Mr. Harker, who painted the scenery for such famous spectacular shows as "Kismet," "Chu Chin Chow," "Cairo and Decameron Nights," was a friend of Tree.

Tree and he had had one of their occasional tiffs, and the actor was feeling vindictive. He and Alfred Wareing, of the Huddersfield Repertory theater, were motoring one day in the country. Wareing called Tree's attention to the glorious sunset.

Tree was silent for a moment, then he snapped: "Ah, in Harker's most violent manner!"

Pine Leaf Paper.

It has been estimated that if the immense waste were eliminated, the daily output of the long-leaf pine industry would be 4,000 tons of paper. 1,000 tons of rosin, 300,000 gallons of turpentine, and 400,000 gallons of ethyl.

MOTHS! MOTHS!

What are they? Most people know but do you know? A solution for the protection of your clothes during the time they are not in use? You no doubt have noticed that moths will not work just in one spot but will eat a little here and there that is proof that there is something there they like. A sure prevention is to have your clothing thoroly cleaned that destroys all moths; even the eggs or other germs that may be in the garment then pack them or hang them in a moth proof bag which we furnish free with each suit, coat or overcoat we clean.

Slim Silhouette Now in Danger

Flared Hemline Threatens to Gain Approval of Women of Paris.

The indecision of the Paris couture has caused a rift in the hitherto harmonious lute of fashion. Months before the opening in August, says a Paris writer in the New York Herald-Tribune, there came rumblings of discontent from critics, who insisted that the straight silhouette had outlived its day and that a definitely different outline was essential for the autumn season. On the other hand, there were the countless devotees of the slim line, amounting to almost a cult, who contended that the esthetic appeal and the simple charm of current styles could not be supplanted by any bouffant or intricate effects. Your Paris designer is nothing if not a diplomat, and he shrewdly declined the issue by offering milady her choice of several distinct silhouettes. Far from settling the question, this attitude naturally enough drew the lines of battle still closer, until today, with the autumn season inaugurated, the usual symphonic family of the mode has been disrupted into two opposing camps.

It is true that the offering of a wide diversification of styles by the French couture has come to be a matter of course in recent seasons. The unprecedented growth of fashion and consequent artistic competition have been responsible for more varied efforts on the part of the couturier. But in the past there was always an agreement on the basic tenets of the mode. Waistlines might vary, sleeves might be subjected to diverse manipulations, trimmings and accessories were as individual as the salons which exploited them, but the foundation was definitely the same with practically every designer.

Long Sleeves Approved.

Compared to these normal tendencies of the mode, the trend this autumn has been a paradox. The Paris creators have agreed upon the details and have proceeded to diversify the keystone. The long and narrow sleeve is an accepted fact in autumn fashions—it is definitely a part of the picture. The high neckline is another detail upon which the couture is in harmony, and its place, too, is secure and safe in the autumn mode. Another general point of accord is the abbreviated skirt, which with some designers falls seventeen inches short of terrestrial paths, and which averages between fourteen and fifteen. To which must be added the ensemble and the tunic, each of which occupies a prominent place in every collection.

Consider now the silhouette, which has ever been the traditional basis of every new season's fashions. The straight, slim line has dominated the situation for the last half dozen seasons, and while its supremacy has been sporadically challenged, there has never been a strong, determined effort to displace it from its easy throne—at least, not until the present line without exception in tailormades and morning frocks, but has introduced an occasional flare in formal gowns. Molyneux is entirely unable to resist the charm of the boyish mode, and has adopted the straight line to the exclusion of all others. Worth mixes his palette and offers a little of each.

The Directoire Outline.

Cheruit, Promet and Bechoff exploit the directoire outline. Chez Jenny the line is straight and youthful, with here and there a slight circular movement or fullness—just enough to lend variety to this very interesting collection. All of which is sufficient to indicate that there is no unanimity of opinion in Paris on the subject of the silhouette, however much the creators may agree on the incidental details of the mode.

We are aided in forecasting the future of these silhouettes by the international polo matches at Westbury, which, because of the attendance of the prince of Wales, attracted an unprecedented gathering of society. Using the clothes worn at this function as a criterion, it is evident that the adherents of the straight, slender outline are still in clear majority. Yet there was a very distinct sprinkling of the flared skirt effects, sometimes exploited quite boldly and sometimes offered a little timidously. It was significant, however, that these new tendencies received the most encouragement from those women who are notably smart dressers.

Our own opinion is that it will be another season before a new silhouette takes a definite place in the domains of fashion—that many of the designers who groped timidly toward something different in the August showings will take a firmer stand when the February spring openings arrive. We believe that even the mid-season exhibitions, which take place in November, will display definite tendencies away from straight simplicity. For the present, however, the ubiquitous slender silhouette is the current fare of the mode. The new outlines, distinctly modish, may be categorized as caviar—caviar to the queen.

Double Effects Featured.

Perhaps the most prominent of the adherents of the fuller silhouette is Gabrielle Chanel. Her skirts are invariably cut on circular lines and a flare at the hemline, sometimes slight and sometimes clearly marked, is always apparent. The coats of this designer are usually fitted slightly at the waist and employ godets and gathers to achieve the desired full effect. Like every other member of the Paris couture, Chanel has recognized the appeal of the ensemble, which is a distinctive feature of her collection.

A striking ensemble consists of a brown velvet coat that has smocking across the shoulders at the back and a belt, also at the back, that ties in a loose bow at the side. It is lined with pale green crepe roman and worn over a dress of the same green crepe that has narrow, flat flounces in three groups from waistline to hem.

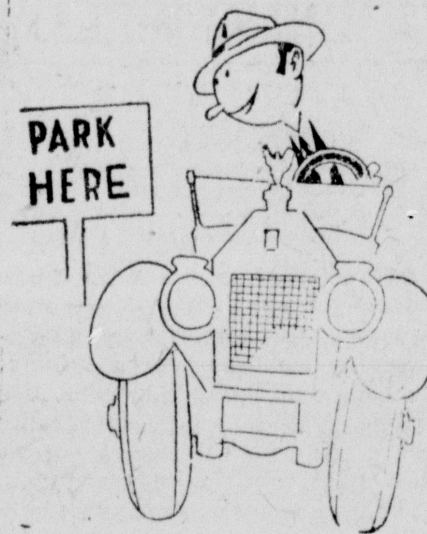

A new idea in her coats is a very interesting double effect which is achieved by means of contrasting materials. For instance, a coat in a brown and beige novelty rodier material is made to look as if it were a loose sack, over an undercoat of nurla, and is cut in flaps at the back to show more of the fur, which also appears all around it. Many coats are double fronted, so that the upper part may flap back, while the under front, in a different material, is held across the figure.

The same idea is noted in capes, of which there are several in the collection, both for day and evening wear. These are three-quarter length. One in sealskin has a high turnover collar of royal blue faille, which lines the cape, and there is a quilted inner front which has slashes for the arms to pass through, and is held across in the manner described above.

Elaboration is the dominating note of the evening and formal afternoon coats.

Fox Trot's Name From Horse.

The fox trot, which has apparently come to stay in dancing, takes its name from the similarity of its movements to the peculiar step of the American trotting horse when it is making fast time, and not to the resemblance to a fox's movements. The popularity of the fox trot is found in its rhythm, of course, and this is one of the characteristics of a trotting horse when he is making good time, though when a trotter is just jogging along there isn't so much rhythm in evidence.
